

THE CHARLEROI MAIL

VOL. XIX, NO. 69.

CHARLEROI WASHINGTON CO., SATURDAY, AUGUST 24, 1918.

TWO CENTS

FORTY-THREE REGISTRANTS ARE CALLED FROM THIS DISTRICT

Go to Camp Greenleaf During the First Week in September

COLOR MEN ALSO CALLED

Draft quotas for Washington county for the movement of selectives to Camp Greenleaf, Lytle, Georgia, during the four-day period from September 3 to 6 were announced from Harrisburg on Friday. The quotas for this troop movement, and assigned to the different districts of this county are as follows:—

First district, Washington.....	53
Second district, McDonald.....	34
Third district, Canonsburg.....	28
Fourth district, Ellsworth.....	40
Fifth district, Donora.....	43

Making a total of 208 registrants from this county.

In addition to these selectives, fourteen colored men are also summoned from the county to report at Camp Sherman, four from the first district, eight from the third, one from the fourth and one from the fifth.

No selectives will be sent from this county to Camp Meade at Admiral, Md., or to Camp Dix, at Wrightstown, N. J. An additional call for 1,500 men to report to Camp Forrester, at Lytle, Ga., is being worked out now by the stated draft board, and it is likely that Washington county will be called upon for additional men to make up the quota.

The contingent of 43 men for Camp Greenleaf will be made up largely, if not altogether, of men from the 1918 registration, as few if any of the 1917 class remain on the lists. The local board will make out the list of those selected as soon as entraining orders are received, which will likely be some time next week, as it will be necessary for the men to leave for camp on the following week.

REV. BURSON HOME FROM HIS VACATION

Rev. John R. Burson returned Friday evening from his vacation, and reports having had a busy but enjoyable time. He heard a number of war speakers from Washington, D. C., and visiting one of the war camps in New York. He had a number of interviews with flying men, and reports great enthusiasm and optimism that the war will be won in the next 18 months. According to his promise to the government, Rev. Burson made a number of war addresses, the last being on Wednesday evening in his old home town of Clarksville, Pa.

Herman Paxton of Lock Four who is at home on a short furlough is serving aboard the merchant ship, Luckenbach, now in dry dock for repairs at an Atlantic port.

Phillips Lodge, Monongahela, Pa., Monday August 26, at 1:30 o'clock, p. m., in full uniform, to attend the funeral of Sir Thomas C. Buchanan. Members of other Commanderies are courteously invited to attend.

Thomas L. Pollock, Commander.

WAS KILLED AT HIS POST

Engineer T. C. Buchanan Fatally Injured While Train Was Under Way

LONG IN SERVICE OF RAILROAD

Thomas C. Buchanan, one of the oldest passenger engineers on the Monongahela Division of the Pennsylvania Railroad, was almost instantly killed at Duquesne Friday evening, while his train was on its way south to Monongahela. At the point where the accident occurred a number of trolley poles of the Pittsburgh Railway company are placed very close to the right of way of the railroad, in some places the clearance being but a little over eight inches. It is known as a dangerous point, and engineers and other trainmen have been continually warned against it. As Buchanan's train was passing that point Friday evening he leaned out of the cab window of the engine possibly to observe some of the workings of the machine, evidently forgetting for the moment the proximity of the trolley poles. While in this position he collided with one of the poles, which threw his body around, and before he could recover he was struck by a second pole a short distance away. He was rendered unconscious by the impact, and the fireman brought the train to a sudden stop. The injured engineer was at once taken from the cab and started on the way to the McKeesport hospital, but before reaching that institution he died.

Mr. Buchanan had only returned to duty a few days ago, after a trip to New York with his wife, to see his son James, who is now in the Signal Corps of the United States Army, before he sailed for France. He was a member of Henry M. Phillips Lodge, F. & A. M., of Monongahela, and of McKean Commandery, Knights Templar, of Charleroi. He was a brother-in-law of the late I. R. Blythe, of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Short and daughter of Cleveland are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Orange of Third street.

How To Get Information Of Soldiers Reported Missing

Steps taken to secure information to the family, warning them when the when a soldier with the American forces is reported missing is explained in a bulletin issued at Red Cross headquarters. "Missing in Action" may mean anything, that he was killed; that he was severely wounded; that identification was for the time impossible; or that he was taken prisoner. "When a man is reported missing," the bulletin continues, "the Red Cross does not wait for any inquiry from the family. The Bureau of Communication immediately writes to the father to tell him what steps are being taken and the Paris office sets to work. Name, regiment and company of the missing man are immediately sent to all the searchers in the various hospitals, because they may be survivors of the engagement in almost any hospital. Their evidence, no matter how conflicting, is sent through Paris to Washington and the Bureau of Communication issues successive bulletins to the family, warning them when the evidence is only hearsay. "The Red Cross however, does not confine itself to inquiries on the Allied side of the lines. As soon as a man is reported missing an inquiry is started in Germany through the International Red Cross in Geneva. Lists of American prisoners in Germany are eventually given out by the German government. The International Red Cross is generally able, however, with the assistance of the German Red Cross, to secure names some days, and often weeks, in advance of the official lists. Suggestions for communication with members of the overseas force contained in the bulletin are: 1. The American Red Cross cannot undertake the transmission of letters, parcels or money to individuals in the Expeditionary Forces. These must be sent according to regulations which may be obtained at any post office. Continued on Page 2.

AGAINST RAISE IN MINERS' WAGES

Fuel Administrator Garfield will not approve a wage increase for coal miners, it was strongly intimated on Friday, after he had conferred with officials of the United Mine Workers at Washington. He will, however, put a stop to the practice of operators paying bonuses to the miners, through which system they competed among themselves for mine labor.

Dr. Garfield recalled to the mine workers that they had signed the so-called "Washington wage agreement" under which they agreed that wages should not be increased during the war, and is said to have told them they could not justify and demand for increased wages on the ground that the operators were paying bonuses.

The first action of the Administration toward stopping bonuses was to order a reduction of 20 cents a ton in the price of coal in the Cambridge and Hocking fields in Ohio, and of 5 cents a ton to all other fields of that State except those in the Eighth district. The Ohio fields, the administration said, was the heart of the bonus practice which has led to dissatisfaction among the miners.

WANTED—Rooms or room and board for a number of young ladies from the best families in Washington, Greene and Fayette Counties. Some would be willing to help with the work morning and evenings. Please leave name and address at Douglas Business College. Bell Phone 532J.

Mrs. Frank Wise of Jeannette is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Orange of Third street.

EXPECT 100 MEN TO REGISTER TODAY

Up until noon today twenty-five young men who have come of age since the 5th of June, had registered at the draft headquarters in Donora. The response of the young men is beyond the expectations of the board, which had estimated that possibly 50, or maybe 75 would be registered during the day. From indications, however, it is likely that over one hundred men in the district will have registered.

The next step in the registration will be the mailing of questionnaires which will be done on Monday next, after which the men will be classified according to regulations. These men, however, will not likely be called for service until after the men now on the list have been inducted into the army.

UNION SERVICES IN THE LUTHERAN CHURCH

Union services will be held in Christ Lutheran church Sunday evening at 8 o'clock, with the Rev. John R. Burson, in the pulpit. Rev. Mr. Keller was originally scheduled for this appointment, but his absence on war duty makes it impossible for him to fill the assignment. Rev. Mr. Burson, who is just home from his vacation, which was spent largely in the north, will have a special message for the people.

According to his American dentist, the Crown Prince is inefficient, effeminate and cowardly as well as heartless. Had he not been the Kaiser's first born he would not have been allowed to go on playing at war and heedlessly sacrificing lives.

AWAIT DECISION BY THE STATE DRAFT BOARD TO RE-CLASSIFY

I. C. BUCHANAN'S FUNERAL ON MONDAY

The funeral of Thomas C. Buchanan, who was killed at Duquesne Friday evening, will take place Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, from the Methodist church, Monongahela. McKean Commandery, No. 80, Knights Templar, of Charleroi, will attend in a body and will have charge of the funeral after the church services are over.

HIGH SCHOOL TEAM IN CAMP

Enjoying Outing on Ten Mile and Practicing Football

TWO "WORK-OUTS" EACH DAY

Twenty-two members of the football squad of the Charleroi-high school are encamped on the Shidler farm, about three-quarters of a mile beyond Marianna. The members of the team went out on Monday, and will remain at the camp until next Saturday afternoon, coming home in time to attend the opening session of the high school, Monday morning, September 2nd.

The camp is under the general management of David Glunt, with Russell Stahlman as business manager. Two colored chefs look after the dining tent, and this particular feature of the outing is hugely enjoyed by the boys. The team is in charge of Dr. A. H. Stahlman as coach, and two practice sessions are held daily, one at 10 a. m. and the other at 3 p. m. All of the boys are showing up fine in practice, and prospects for the team are as good as they have ever been. Seven tents provide the boys with plenty of accommodations, and they are hugely enjoying the outing, which is being used as a preliminary training period for the football squad.

NEW POSTMISTRESS AT LOCK NO. FOUR

Miss Lulu Buffle has been appointed postmistress at Lock No. Four, her commission being received on Thursday, August 22nd. The office at Lock Four, while not as important as in years gone by, is one of the oldest in point of existence in this section of the valley. It was the only post office between Webster and Belle Vernon on the Monongahela river for many years, but finally had to surrender its leading position when Charleroi was founded twenty-eight years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Carson entertained at a 6 o'clock dinner Thursday evening in honor of Mr. Carson's brother Abram who will leave shortly for a training camp.

Local Board Refers Question to Higher Authorities For Settlement

ABOUT SIXTY MEN CONCERNED

The selective board of the Fifth District of Washington county, with headquarters at Donora, has called a board on re-classification of registrants at all some important points in connection with the law have been passed on by the state draft board.

A short time ago the board issued notices to quite a number of registrants to appear before the board to submit proof as to why they should not be placed in Class 1-A, these registrants having previously been placed in deferred classification. About sixty men answered the summons and presented their evidence as to why no change should be made in the classification, and the board met on Thursday to pass on and review each case. The first one taken up presented some features on which the board was not quite clear, and it was determined to place the entire matter before the state board for an opinion, which will hereafter guide the local officials in disposing of such cases.

Many of the men summoned to show cause why their classification should not be changed are engaged in what are termed non-essential occupations. The board explained to them the necessity of obtaining employment which the government has classified as essential, and advised them to make a change. In this respect they called attention to the Federal Employment Service Bureau, which endeavors to place men in deferred classification, and who are engaged in non-essential work, to secure employment which is one of the war necessities, to give each man some work in keeping with his ability and training if that is possible, and at the same time work no hardship on the registrant.

The securing of employment which is regarded as essential is practically mandatory, otherwise the registrant is likely to have his classification changed and inducted into service. The local board was delayed in taking up this feature of the work, but now that they have made a beginning will render decisions just as soon as they hear from the state board at Harrisburg.

POPULAR MISCONCEPTIONS

Three popular misconceptions are called to mind by the splendid aerial achievement of D'Annunzio, who flew all the way from the Italian lines to Vienna, dropped warning leaders into the enemy's capital and returned in safety. It is supposed that only very young men can become successful aviators or can be capable of hard physical strain of any sort, yet D'Annunzio is reported to be "over fifty." In all northern countries it is popularly supposed that the peoples of the south are indolent victims of climate incapable of vigorous effort, especially physical effort. Yet warm climates were the cradles of all the ancient conquering civilizations, and even in modern times the armies as well as the literature and art producers of southern nations have been far famed. Ancient Italy produced the world-conquering Roman empire and medieval Italy during century after century successfully resisted the onslaughts of the barbarous Teutons of the north. The Italy of our time, again fighting the Teutonic aggressor, has produced the Duke of Abruozzi, one of the most daring explorers, as well as D'Annunzio himself—no mention no more. Finally it is popularly supposed that a poet is necessarily a physically indolent dreamer, yet this has been repeatedly disproved throughout the ages, from Aeschylus, who fought with great distinction at Marathon, to Petrarch. Sir Philip Sidney and others, on down to the list of young poets who have fought and bled in the present war. Gabrielle D'Annunzio himself, after winning world fame as a poet and dramatist, became not only an enthusiastic propagandist of Italy's entry into the war but a daring participant in the conflict at fifty years of age. Capacity for bold adventure is not a monopoly of the young; vigorous endeavor distinguishes the south as well as the north; and the dreaming poet may only await opportunity in order to become a soldier among the best.

POLITICS NOT ADJOURNED

The renomination of Representative Huddleston of the ninth Alabama district in the Democratic primaries, which is equivalent to re-election, is significant. Though President Wilson had expressed the sentiment that politics had been or should be adjourned for the period of the war, he is understood to have strongly objected by letter to the renomination of Mr. Huddleston. Doubtless there was good reason for objection to Mr. Huddleston in view of his record. In the Sixty-Fourth Congress he voted against the Kuhn amendment to the Hay bill, which aimed to bring the army up to the recommendations of the General Staff; against an increase in the naval appropriation; and for the Cooper amendment which would have prohibited American ships from exercising their legal right of carrying arms or ammunition in their cargoes. In the present Congress he voted against the Kuhn amendment to the Hay bill, which aimed to bring the army up to the recommendations of the General Staff; against an increase in the naval appropriation; and for the Cooper amendment which would have prohibited American ships from exercising their legal right of carrying arms or ammunition in their cargoes. In the present Congress he voted against the Kuhn amendment to the Hay bill, which aimed to bring the army up to the recommendations of the General Staff; against an increase in the naval appropriation; and for the Cooper amendment which would have prohibited American ships from exercising their legal right of carrying arms or ammunition in their cargoes.

Manifestly this is not a record to appeal to the advocates of a determined and vigorous fighting America. It can hardly be wholly forgotten in the ninth Alabama district yet Mr. Huddleston has been renominated. It is barely possible that the ninth Alabama district prefers to do its voting without suggestion or assistance from a distance and that the voters of this section of an anti-suffrage State were thinking less of Huddleston's record than of the President's efforts to push through a nation-wide woman suffrage amendment. The anti-suffrage States remember that the President formerly contended that they should be left free to choose for themselves in this matter and perhaps they resent his later conversion to the forces determined to make Congress choose for them.

If Italian aviators can reach Vienna, Allied armies can reach Berlin and they can drop bombs as well as warning messages. The two Teutonic capitals are likely to have a taste of the cruel alarms they visited upon Paris and London and their howls of outrage will merit only jeers.

HOW TO GET INFORMATION

2. The rule of the War Department that parcels may not be sent to an individual except on requisition signed by the commanding officer applies equally to Red Cross and other civilian workers in Europe. It is a regulation made absolutely necessary by the serious overcrowding of the mails with non-essentials.

3. Inquiries about individuals should always be sent to the Bureau of Communication, American Red Cross, Washington, D. C., not direct to Paris or London. The reason for this is that an address is always verified before being sent on; that if necessary information is omitted from the request it can be secured without loss of time; that the inquiry will reach Paris or London with less delay.

4. Answers to inquiries will be sent to the Bureau of Communication in Washington and then forwarded to the families. This is a rule of the War Department. It saves time because the Post Office Department has kindly consented to have this casualty mail enclosed in a special package in Paris and sent direct to the American Red Cross in Washington. It insures accuracy of delivery because addresses are often changed and letters sent direct from France might therefore never be delivered. It insures accuracy of statement because conditions have often changed between the time that a report leaves Paris and the time it reaches Washington. Under present conditions from two to three weeks elapse between mailing and delivery of letters from abroad.

5. Inquiries are normally forwarded and received by the Bureau of Communication by mail. The cable will not be used except in cases of urgent necessity, such as serious illness in a family. The army has ruled that detailed casualty information shall not be sent by cable, since the Atlantic cables are seriously overcrowded, and if such information were cabled in all cases it would be impossible to use the cables for any other work.

6. When a man is reported missing it is absolutely unnecessary to make inquiry in Europe about him, because in all cases this is done without special request and any facts procured are sent immediately to the Bureau of Communication to be forwarded to the family.

7. If inquiry concerning an individual is made of the Bureau of Communication by a Red Cross chapter or any other organization, the name and address of the next of kin should be included, as it is a War Department regulation that casualty information be sent to the family direct. If there is good reason against this, such as the fact that the family does not speak English, the organization making the inquiry should explain the fact so that the Bureau of Communication will have authority to answer through a third party.

The Red Cross serves the army and navy in this country through the Camp Service as well as in the seat of active warfare. The branch of Red Cross service is conducted through representatives stationed in camps, posts, stations and in hospitals outside the camps.

In writing to American prisoners in German camps no reference may be made to the war or to any governmental matter. The letter is addressed to the prisoner and not to the American Red Cross to be forwarded. A sample of the address for prisoner of war mail follows:

Private John Smith, First Infantry,
American prisoner of war,
Kriegsgefangenenlager.
Name of camp.
Name of Province.
Germany (or Austria.)

In the upper right hand corner where on an ordinary envelope the stamp would be, placed, write "Prisoner of War Mail. No Postage. via New York." On the back of the envelope write full name and address of sender.

POOL STAGE IN LOCAL RIVERS IS NORMAL

United States Engineers in the Pittsburgh district have made complaints against the pernicious reports regarding the pool stage in the Pittsburgh district not being sufficient for navigation. According to figures submitted from the various lockmasters the pools in this district have been normal and very light water has been lost through evaporation, although there was a serious dry spell for several weeks. In the Monongahela splash boards serve to keep the pools at a good stage.

CHARLEROI EVIDENCE FOR CHARLEROI PEOPLE

The Statements of Charleroi Residents Are Surely More Reliable Than

Those of Utter Strangers. Home testimony is real proof. Public statements of Charleroi people carry real weight.

What a friend or neighbors says compels respect.

The word of one whose home is far away counts you doubts.

Here's a Charleroi woman's statement.

And it's for Charleroi people's benefit.

Such evidence is convincing.

That's the kind of proof that backs Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. Chas. Bromwich, 714 Washington avenue, says: "I suffered from a severe attack of kidney trouble. I noticed pains across the small of my back and I had headaches and a constant, tired feeling. Nothing helped me. After using Doan's Kidney Pills a few days, I felt better and I continued their use until I was permanently cured."

the consent of the electors thereof at a public election. Such election shall be provided by law. In ascertaining the borrowing capacity of the said city of Philadelphia at any time, there shall be deducted from such debt so much of the debt of the said city as shall have been incurred, and the proceeds thereof invested in any public improvements of any character which shall be yielding to the said city an annual current net revenue. The amount of such deduction shall be ascertained by capitalizing the annual net revenue from such improvement during the year immediately preceding the time of the election, and such capitalization shall be estimated by ascertaining the principal amount which would yield such annual current net revenue at the average rate of interest, and sinking-fund charges payable upon the indebtedness incurred by said city for such purposes up to the time of such ascertainment. The method of determining such amount, so to be deducted, may be prescribed by the General Assembly. In ascertaining the net revenue for any purpose the city of Philadelphia may issue its obligations maturing not later than fifty (50) years from the date thereof, with provision for a sinking-fund sufficient to retire said obligations at maturity, the payment to such sinking-fund to be in equal or graded annual or other periodic installments. Where any indebtedness shall be or shall have been incurred by said city of Philadelphia for the purpose of public construction or improvement of public works of any character from which income or revenue is to be derived by said city or for the redemption of any debt or for the construction of any wharves or docks owned or to be owned by said city, such obligations may be in an amount sufficient to provide for and include the amount of the interest and sinking-fund charges accruing and which may accrue thereon throughout the period of one year after the completion of the work for which said indebtedness shall have been incurred, and such obligations shall be required to pay said interest and sinking-fund charges as required by section ten, article nine of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, until the expiration of said period of one year after the completion of said work.

GETTING A WIFE "BY MAIL"

This young man, trained to look for "bargains" from pictures, falls for the matrimonial agency bait. For months he courted his future wife from Long Distance with the help of a photograph. The photograph was certainly "easy to look at." The day when he was to meet her could not come too soon. But, alas, what a rude awakening! His prize was a Blank. He didn't know that there are always two sides to a picture, the original and the counterfeit. Moral—"Out-of-town" schemers, flirting for your dollars, do not send you the real picture. Real people, real goods, real bargains and real prosperity are found at home.
